We are pleased to inform you that "American Medical Journal" decided to dedicate a special issue for publication of all accepted articles presented at your conference for more citation and world wide readership.

American Medical Journal is available in both, online and print format with full length articles for free and unlimited data download.

American Medical Journal would bear printing and publication cost of all articles. Would you please kind enough to spare some time to respond and forward this e-mail, add our name in sponsors list and share your ideas with us.

I look forward to hearing from you in very near future.
